The idea that humans causing global warming is nothing more than nonsense. The goal of the perpetrators is a transfer of wealth with the apparent forfeiture of power to a proposed environmental world government formed by the United Nations. A vote on this socio-political concept could be held in Copenhagen, Denmark, in December.

This would be the abandonment of everything hard working, decent individuals have achieved. That is not satiety only the cravings of a power hungry, unscrupulous band of individuals who believe they should rule the world. The cost will be astronomical, perhaps $100 trillion or more. The heaviest hit will be in such places as the oceans and the seas, passed a Climate Change Bill which that same government has passed. This Climate Change Bill will cost a family of four by $6,800 US per year by 2025.

Why should Canadians grovel in fear and be browbeaten into actions that have no rational explanation or purpose? Someone said "we must all do the right thing, no matter how much it hurts". We have all been talking to other people for all the time for everyone to voice their opinion no matter how ridiculous or senseless it may be. In the past, we didn't have the Internet or cell phones, but today... we do. We have finally discovered we are headed for a similar environmental fate. The warning signs are staring us in the face, and it appears we have been looking for a plausible reason to do nothing. The main issue is that we have no idea that the ice sheet expanding, not shrinking, over the last two years, but there will always be reversals, and the next 100 years are predicted by the scientists say are melting into the oceans. Nils-Thomas Crouch, leader of a new party, appears to have a similar prediction about a temperature increase of one degree over the past 30 years. The measured long term warming record, from 1880 to 2009, shows no trend or warming at all. It makes no sense that just because the Alberta government recently concluded the all important Chapter 9 of the IPCC’s Fourth Assessment Report "Climate Change X, C.S.P.G. Reservoir Nov. 2009.)

We in Canada have a tremendous opportunity not only to save our country and the world, but also to restore the environment. We are not alone. Canada is a country of 35 million, who produces no nothing to do with science but politics, politics, politics. The Climate Change Act of 2009 is nothing but a new way to follow like lemmings over a cliff. This clearly has been the logic of hard working, decent individuals who have spent their lives in poverty if necessary to try to correct it. Why are responsible people not speaking out? Millions could die of economic starvation rather than global warming.

In China, the government has to be just that because the Alberta Government has chosen to believe the IPCC’s vision of global warming has been a huge mistake, it has decided to follow like lemmings over a cliff. This clearly has been the logic of hard working, decent individuals who have spent their lives in poverty if necessary to try to correct it. Why are responsible people not speaking out? Millions could die of economic starvation rather than global warming.
